Jagan Shah, CEO of The Infravision Foundation, Joins ITDP's Board of Directors

April 21 2025 (New York, NY) — The Institute for Transportation & Development Policy is proud to announce the appointment of Jagan Shah to the ITDP Board of Directors.

Mr. Shah is CEO of The Infravision Foundation, an India-based advocacy think tank promoting reforms, planning and innovative finance in infrastructure for cities, public transport, agriculture, healthcare and energy.

From 2013 to 2019, Mr. Shah was Director of the National Institute of Urban Affairs, India's premier urban think tank, where he co-created the Smart Cities Mission, prepared the Draft Master Plan for Delhi 2041, designed the EU-and-AfD-supported City Investments to Innovate Integrate and Sustain (CITIIS) program, and incubated centers for digital governance, sanitation and climate adaptation.

His recent roles include Senior Infrastructure Adviser in UK's Department for International Development, where he designed CDRI's Infrastructure for Resilient Island States (IRIS) facility launched at COP26, and as a Senior Adviser (Capacity Building) at The World Bank.

Since 2016, he has served as Trustee of Clean Air Asia, an INGO based in Manila. Mr. Shah studied architectural design and history, theory and criticism in New Delhi, India, Cincinnati, USA, and New York, USA.

Mr. Shah joins an esteemed group of urban development, mobility, and sustainability experts and advocates on the ITDP Board, including Ellen Lou (Skidmore, Owings & Merrill); Janette Sadik-Khan (Bloomberg Associates); Jules Flynn (Zoomo); Bob Hambrecht (Allotrope Partners); Justine Lee (ClimateHaven); Philipp Rode (LSE Cities); Gerhard Menckhoff (formerly World Bank Group); Heather Thompson (ITDP CEO); and Michael Replogle (ITDP Founder).
